

An Anthology of Madness These selected poems, essays, and journals are the raw and unedited works of author Max Andrew Dubinsky, documenting his addiction, his homelessness, his loss of faith, his search for God, and his abandonment of the church and religion as he wandered the streets of America. Featuring brand new stories and some old favorites, many of these tell-all, gritty tales were originally published on the blog Make It MAD between 2010 and 2012, and have been rereleased in their originality for this special print and digital anthology. ...more An Anthology of Madness PDF ebook
